

CABLE TESTER

LWSCCT

1. Turn the rotary knob clockwise to “Battery Check”. The green LED will light up if the battery is fully charged.
2. Plug one end of the cable to be tested into the left side of the tester, and the other end into the right side.
3. Set the rotary knob to “1”. If the connection is good (completes a circuit), the green LED under the “1” and the yellow LED above the “1” will light up.
4. If the selected conductor does not complete a circuit, it is faulty and no LEDs will light up.
5. Set the rotary knob to “2” to test the next conductor in the cable, and so on. Continue until all the cable conductors have been tested.
6. The Ground LED will light up if there is a connection between the conductor and the connector chassis, indicating a short circuit.
7. To test banana cables, simply plug the banana connector into the banana jacks, and the other end of the cable into the TRS or Speakon™ jack on the right side of the tester.
